GOVERNMENT PLANS COAL STRIKE ACTION

No Reply From Miners Expected Before Wednesday.

Washington Oct 27—Measures to meet the situation which would result from the threatened strike of bituminous coal miners Saturday were considered today by administration officials

NO REPLY BEFORE WEDNESDAY

No reply from officers of the United Mine Workers of America to the demand of President Wilson that the strike be called off is expected until after the miners executive committee meets at Indianapolis Wednesday but meantime officials took cognizance of the statement of union leaders that it would be physically impossible to withdraw the strike order by Nov 1

WITHHOLD PLANS

The administrations program for dealing with the strike naturally will not be disclosed until the strike has developed

To announce now what the government will do in the event of a strike said one official would be to play into the hands of the Bolshevist element If you are going to start a great offensive you do not tell the other fellow what you are going to do

MAY BE JUST DEMANDS

While it is the purpose to keep a strong hand on the radicals official is made it plain that caution should be exercised not to antagonize the more conservative element In this connection they said that many of the miners demands might be just

It is the means they use to obtain their demands to which we object said a high official

Miners Ready To Negotitiate

Indianapolis Oct 27—While preparations for the strike of the half million soft coal miners of the United States ordered for next Saturday are being continued it was said at the international headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America here today that the miners are ready and willing to negotiate a new wage agreement between now and Nov 1 A We do know that the operators have refused proposal after proposal

Now if the government would use the same amount of pressure on the operators that it is using on the United Mine Workers of America there would be no trouble in bringing about a settlement All pressure so far has been on the miners and none on the operator The government could bring the operators to conference easily if it wanted to

The organized miners do not want to strike—it is a last resort It is and always has been the policy of the mine workers to use all honorable means to avoid a strike We hope the operators yet may be induced to meet the miners and reach an agreement which will make the strike needless Nov 1 unnecessary

We want the public to know that the miners have done everything in their power to bring about a conference so that a new wage agreement could be negotiated and the strike avoided Up to this time our efforts have been unsuccessful the operators seem determined to force a strike on the public in order to maintain the high price of coal at the mines

Miners to Reply; Order Stands

Indianapolis Oct 27—A suitable reply to President Wilsons statement holding the impending coal miners strike to be not only unjustifiable but unlawful will probably be drawn up at meeting of the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America to be held here Wednesday according to William Green secretary treasurer of the United Mine Workers

STRIKE ORDER STANDS

Mr Green declined to comment on the Presidents statement pending such action as the board may take further than to say that it is an impossibility now to rescind the strike order effective November 1.

WILSON RESTS; NO DUTIES

Washington Oct — President Wilson obtained considerable rest today after several days during which the difficulties of the national industrial conference and the threatened coal strike had forced Rear Admiral Gray on to rescind in part the order against his active participation in Governmental affairs

Secretary Tumulty ran Sunday out of the city and so far as could be learned no public matters were laid before Mr Wilson by Dr Grayson

Mrs Wilson spent practically the entire day with her husband recruiting to him

ILLINOIS STANDS WITH WILSON SAYS LOWDEN

Springfield Oct 27—Full co operation of the state of Illinois with President Wilson in the Presidents announced stand against the strike of soft coal miners scheduled for Nov 1 was pledged by Gov Frank O Lowden to the end that the people shall not suffer in a statement issued here last night

Declaring that a general strike would seem in effect to substitute soviets for the duly constituted authority of the land Gov Lowden suggested that compulsory arbitration of differences between employes and employers might become necessary

AGAINST THE PUBLIC

The governor said the strike was a strike against the American public There was no hint of any intention to use state troops to put down possible disturbances due to the threatened strike

Gov Lowdens statement follows

The statement of the President makes the issue plain When a special interest conflicts with the interests of the people as a whole the former must give way The strike no doubt has been the most powerful weapon in the hands of labor to improve its conditions So long as the strike affected directly only the employer the public could not object The threatened coal strike however is a strike against the American public In fact it is likely that the public will suffer more than the operators themselves

GOVERNMENT MUST DECIDE

Whenever any organization whether of capital or labor becomes so powerful as to be able to give or to withold from the public the necessities of life such organization must come under the control of the government Otherwise the part becomes greater than the whole If the only alternative to a strike or a lockout by such an organization is the compulsory arbitration of differences between employers and employes engaged in such vital undertakings compulsory arbitration to that extent will have to come

AGAINST CAUSE OF LABOR

Those leaders of labor who meet such a suggestion with the threat of a general strike do not help the cause of labor A general strike would mean in effect an effort to substitute soviets for the duly constituted authority of the land The people are not yet ready to abandon that form of government

Illinois will co-operate with the President to the extent of its power, to the end that its people shall not suffer

LEWIS DEFIES USE OF FORCE

Mine Strike Leader Says Order Stands Despite Threat.

Springfield Oct 27—Prefacing his announcement with the statement that he had received no communication from government sources as to President Wilsons stand against the threatened strike of soft coal miners Nov 1 John L Lewis acting president of the United Mine Workers of America today declared 'the widely heralded intimation that force may be resorted to will not serve to allay the crisis '

The threats to prosecute and incarcerate myself and associates will neither prevent the strike nor terminate it if it occurs Mr. Lewis said

There is even yet a way in which this strike may be averted" Mr Lewis said The government should assemble the coal operators and use its power and influence to secure from them for the miners a just consideration of their demands An agreement could be reached within three days if the coal operators would approach the question in good faith and with open minds

Lewis declared the refusal of the operators to negotiate a new wage agreement and their insistence that the present contract does not expire until April 1, 1920, was the crux of the whole matter

PRESIDENT AGAIN WRONG

President Wilson is again incorrectly informed when he says that the proposed strike was not taken by the sanction of the membership of the United Mine Workers of America' President Lewis stated

Mr Lewis said he was astounded to know of the action which the president has taken and expressed the opinion that it is without precedent and, insofar as I am aware without warrant of law

Mr Lewis said it was possible that district presidents in states comprising the central competitive field—Indiana Ohio Illinois and western Pennsylvania—might be called into the conference Wednesday at Indianapolis of international executive board members The attitude of the government he stated, would be given attention Lewis will leave Springfield for Indianapolis in the course of the day, tomorrow he said

LEWIS STATEMENT

Bloomington Oct 2 —John L Lewis acting president of the United Mine Workers of America last night declined to state specifically the attitude of the United Mine Workers toward the statement of President Wilson regarding the proposed strike of the bituminous coal miners of the nation

AMERICAN RIGHT

In regard to this Mr Lewis would only say

I am an American free born with all the pride of my heritage I love my country with its institutions and traditions With Abraham Lincoln I thank God that we have a country where men may strike May the power of my Government never be used to throttle and crush the efforts of the toilers to improve their material welfare and elevate the standard of their citizenship

Mr Lewis said that he had not received any message from Washington that he had been traveling all day He left Washington at 6 o clock Saturday evening to return to his home at Springfield which he left Oct 6 He added that he had yesterday morning at 1 o clock called a meeting of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers to convene at Indianapolis at 10 o clock Wednesday morning He explained that the meeting was called before President Wilsons statement was made public The gathering had been called primarily to formulate details of the strike

FIGHT TO STRIKE

When asked to make a statement on the right of the miners to strike Nov 1 in the face of the critical conditions he said

The coal operators have not offered a single constructive suggestion designed to avert this catastrophe All through the negotiations at Buffalo later at Philadelphia and still later at Washington the miners waited in vain for any counter proposal to be submitted by the operators During the conference with Secretary Wilson at Washington we said many times that we were willing to re enter negotiations with coal operators without reservation to conclude the making of an agreement forthwith The offer that we made was repeatedly declined The responsibility for the stoppage of work in the bituminous coal districts must necessarily lie with the coal operators

WAR IS ENDED

Mr Lewis was asked what answer he had to make to the contention of the operators that the contract has not expired

Our contract read that it was to continue in effect during the period until the war ended and not to exceed March 31, 1920 he replied

The war is over Our soldiers have returned All the Government war agencies are disbanded A German vessel of war is given now heading for New York upon a peace mission In substance form and reality the war is ended and our contract has expired

REASONS FOR DEMANDS

What right have you to ask so large an increase in wages as 60 per cent? he was asked

Well now we are willing to stand on the merit of our proposal he replied This 60 per cent increase is subject to negotiations as are all demands of the United Coal Miners but they will not even negotiate'

Are not the miners getting good wages now"

WAGES

During the past 12 months the miners of the United States have averaged only $70 a month or $800 for the entire period The men have worked on an average of less than three days a week since the armistice was signed Men with families can not live on this amount Children in mining camps are under nourished This is a matter of life and death to the women and children of the miners families as well as it is to the public Charity begins at home'

SHORT DAY

When asked why the miners were asking for so short a day as a six hour day Mr Lewis said

Our aim is to make a shorter working period and to distribute the work over more days during the year The miners in England have a seven hour day from bank to bank which means from the time they leave the surface of the ground until they get back Miners in the United States have an eight hour day but that does not count until they get to the face of the coal They are in reality working nine and a half hours a day

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

I never hang table linen on the clothes line I iron it right from the wash tub as it were

When I m washing I m careful to fold the table-cloths and napkins straight and wring them as dry as possible This saves a lote of work and handling of the clothes

Then I put them through the ironing machine and they come out with a beautiful gloss and smooth, satiny finish

Table linen should always be very damp to iron nicely and it is hard to sprinkle it to make it of an even dampness all over

To one irons linen by hand its a long hard process almost an hour to do a long heavy cloth But with the ironing machine an hour will do the entire flat ironing

Fashions

MEDIEVAL KEYNOTE IN NEW BLOUSE

BY BETTY BROWN.

Up from the days of leather jerkins and later armor plate, fashion has brought the lines of the French cuirasse The blouse sketched today is a slipover following these lines in strict simplicity The rich hues of crimson brocade, the material from which the blouse has been shaped, make further trimming unnecessary

With plain sleeves ended with a straight edge at the three-quarter length and a simple binding of plain material rounding the opening at the throat, the cuirasse effect is completed by the almost abrupt ending a few inches below the waist line

Smartness is achieved by concealing the waist line with five graceful folds held in place on each side by five buttons of crimson velvet

While the material places this blouse in the semi-formal class, its simplicity of line opens a possibility of wear on a wider range of occasions A plain gathered skirt of heavy satin of soft velvet in black makes a two piece suit the style of which is becoming to a surprising majority of women

Which Is the Stronger Influence—

Your Figure or Your Corset?

A number of women come to us with the complaint that their corsets soon grow shapeless, and instead of moulding their figures, are moulded by them.

The beautiful lines for which the corset was bought are lost long before it is worn out. To these women we always say:

Try A Redfern Corset

—and when they do, we never hear them complain again.

We fit you in a Redfern when you buy it, and once you have selected the proper corset for your figure, you will be assured of its continuing to fit as it did at first.

No gradual taking-on of the curves of your figure, but a gradual moulding of them to its own beautiful lines.

Redferns in all the new fall models, in both front-lace and back-lace, are here at prices ranging from—

FEELS BETTER THAN IN YEARS

After Losing Faith In Medicines Tanlac Has Put Moser on His Feet Again.

"Not in years," said Sam Moser, a prosperous farmer, who lives on R. F. D. No 4, Fremont, Ill., while in Sutliff & Case's drug store in Peoria, Ill., recently, "have I enjoyed such good health and felt so well generally as I have since I began taking Tanlac." Continuing Mr. Moser said:

"About seventeen years ago while working on my farm I became overheated and ever since then I have suffered with stomach trouble. I had very little appetite and could eat scarcely anything at all and what little I did force down would nearly kill me. I would have the worst sort of cramps in my stomach and gas would form and I would bloat something terrible. I suffered with pains in the back of my head and would have weak nervous spells and become so dizzy at times I would have to grab hold of something to keep from falling. My nerves got in such bad shape I could sleep very little. All these troubles got me so weak I had to quit work altogether and was hardly able to get about at all. I tried every treatment and every kind of medicine I could hear of without getting any better, and had lost faith in everything in the way of medicine and was badly discouraged.

"I had read so much about the good Tanlac was doing for others I decided I would give it a trial and the very first bottle I took seemed to help me, and after taking several bottles I have a fine appetite, eat anything I want and am never bothered with my stomach. I never have pains in my head any more or dizzy spells and my nerves are in such fine shape I sleep like a log and never wake up until the 'Big Ben' alarm clock rattles out in the morning, and then sometimes I turn over and go to sleep again. I have gained my strength back and can do as much work as I ever could in my life.

"My wife had also suffered for years with indigestion and nervousness and was in a general run down condition, and as she saw how much good Tanlac had done me she decided to try it, and it has done her a world of good. She is enjoying the best health she has in years and her nerves are in such good fix she enjoys sleeping as well as I do. We are both great believers in Tanlac and never miss an opportunity to tell others what it has done for us."

Tanlac is sold in Decatur by Decatur Drug Company, in Blue Mound by W. R. Graham and in Macon by Smelz Hobbs Company.

$100.00 Reward For Evidence!

The undersigned hereby agree to pay $100.00 for evidence leading to the conviction of persons counterfeiting Partola, selling substitute under similar names, or claiming other products to be the same or just as good.

As the public knows there is only one original Partola advertised for many years under the trade mark "The Doctor in Candy Form." It is a peppermint candy laxative which has exceptional tonic value and recognized antiseptic properties. There is only one Partola; there is nothing like Partola and certainly nothing just as good. Any claims to the contrary are false and will be legally prohibited.

NOTE: If you are one of the unfortunate who has contracted the "pill habit" or if you take regularly strong purgatives in order to get temporary relief from constipation, remember this—to have health you must overcome it and get rid of constipation. Get it out of your system entirely. Overcome constipation and you won't need to keep doping and insulting your stomach and bowels.

Partola Candies overcome constipation by cleansing the bowels thoroughly, by exerting a disinfectant and antiseptic action, also by helping to purify the blood and it tones up the whole intestinal tract. Besides, Partola tablets are delicious to the taste, have no "medicine" flavor and are therefore the favorite of young and old. At all druggists, 25c, 50c and $1.00 boxes. Partola Mfg. Co., New York.

GEORGE KEELING KILLED BY AUTO

Wabash Conductor's Car Overturns.

Wabash Conductor George W. Keeling of Forrest, formerly of Decatur, was instantly killed at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the automobile in which he with his wife and children were driving skidded and went down a bridge embankment near Chatsworth. The machine turned over and he was pinned down under the steering wheel. When help arrived he was dead.

The first news of the accident was received in Decatur by James J. Moran and he was asked to make the arrangements for having the body brought to Decatur. Louis A. Moran and an assistant went to Forrest to prepare the body for burial. Just when it can be brought to Decatur is not known but it is expected that the inquest can be held this evening or Tuesday and that the body will be brought here some time Tuesday. In that case the funeral probably will be held Wednesday afternoon.

OIL ROAD SLIPPERY

Mr. and Mrs. Keeling and their two children had driven to Chatsworth and were returning home to Forrest, about six miles distant. The road had been freshly oiled and a light rain had made it slippery. As the auto approached a bridge it skidded and went over a steep embankment landing upside down at the bottom. It happened so quickly that no one had a chance to jump out of the car and Mr. Keeling had no chance to change his position.

When the machine landed the steering wheel crushed the life out of him. Mrs. Keeling who was in the front seat with her husband suffered a badly bruised leg but it is not thought to be permanently injured. Neither of the children who were in the rear seat was injured. They managed to get out from under the automobile and tried to get their parents out.

HELP COMES

Help soon arrived and the wrecked car was raised and Mr. and Mrs. Keeling taken from underneath. Mrs. Keeling was placed in the care of a physician and the coroner was notified to take charge of the body of Mr. Keeling. Miss Gladys Keeling, though uninjured in the accident, strained her back severely while she and her brother were trying to lift the heavy car and she was suffering considerably Sunday night.

The body of Mr. Keeling was taken to an undertaking establishment in Forrest and after the inquest will be brought to the Moran chapel in Decatur.

WELL KNOWN

George W. Keeling was one of the best known conductors on the Wabash. He was well liked by those for whom and with whom he worked and the news of his death was a shock to all his friends. Mr. Keeling lived in Decatur for fifteen years, the family moving to Forrest about five years ago. His wife was formerly Miss Emma Schneider of Decatur. Her father, Charles Schneider, was at one time a member of the city council. Mr. and Mrs. Keeling often visited in Decatur after their removal to Forrest and they have many friends here.

Mr. Keeling was ill in the Wabash hospital at Decatur for some time suffering from an acute attack of stomach trouble. He and his wife came to Decatur only last Friday and he was to have come back to the hospital this week for another examination to determine if an operation would be necessary. He had not been able to work for some time.

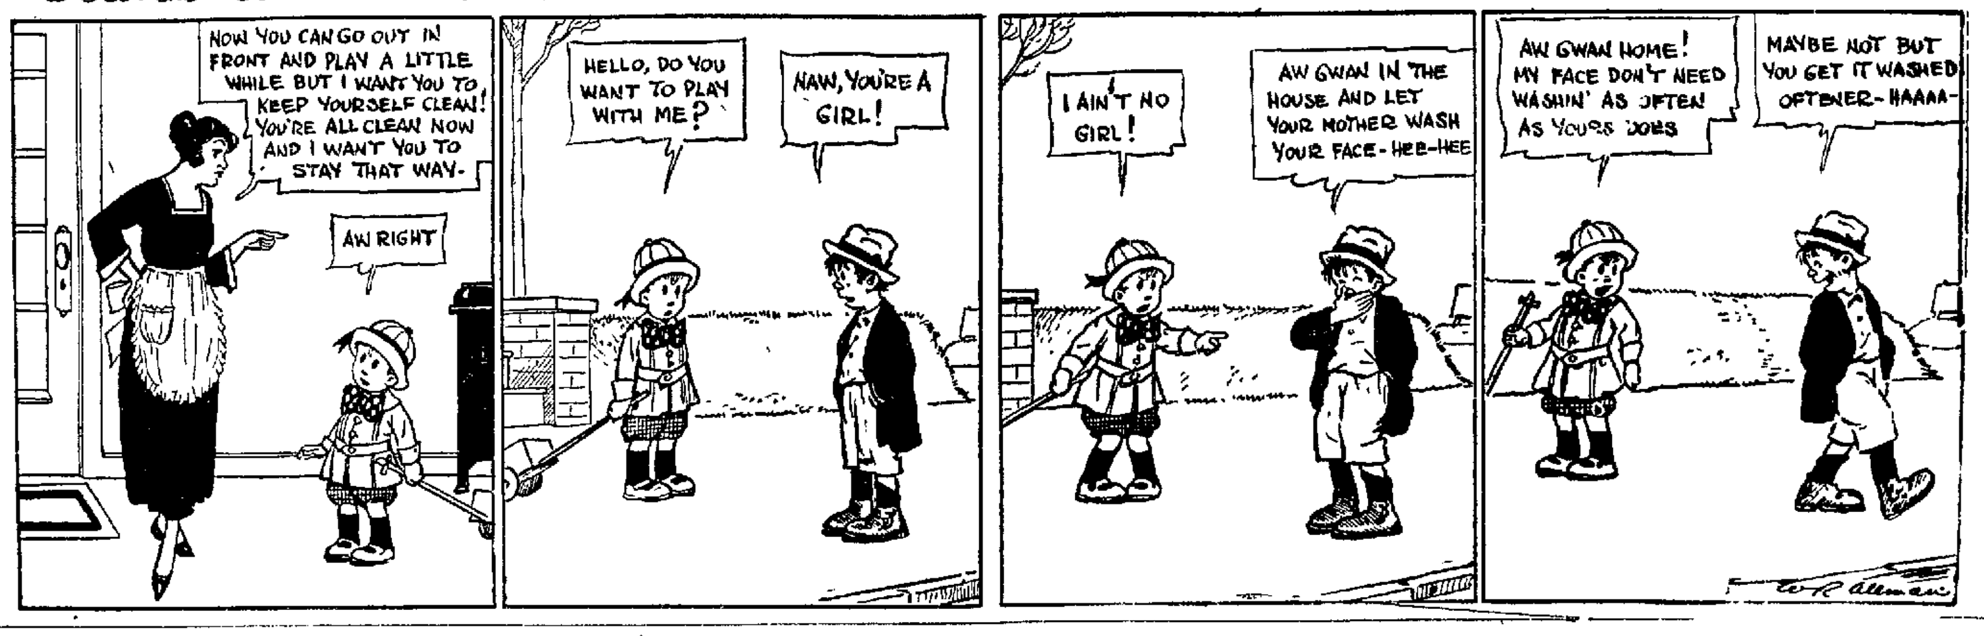

OLD EMPLOYE

Mr. Keeling was born at Chenoa, Ill., April [illegible]. He had been in the employ of the Wabash for over twenty years. Superintendent J. E. Stumpf said that Mr. Keeling was thoroughly dependable and an excellent railroad man doing his work quietly, cheerfully, willingly and well and that when he took a train out he could be relied upon to bring it back on time.

Mr. Keeling was a member of the Order of Railway Conductors. He is survived by his wife and two children, Gladys Keeling and Harold Keeling. He also leaves his father, Cecil J. Keeling of New London, Conn., and two sisters, Mrs. A. C. Wolford of Philadelphia and Mrs. Jake Webber of Phillips, N. D.

CONTINUOUS RAIN SENDS RIVER UP

More Than One Inch Since Last Saturday Night.

At least Mr. J. Pluvius cannot be accused of hoarding rain water. Somewhere around midnight Saturday night, he started pelting the city and country around here with rain drops and has only stopped now and then for short spells to come up for air. Showers have been heavy, light and intermittent but there have been showers nearly any time one stepped out of doors. There has even been showers of leaves.

The rainfall has beaten most of the leaves from the trees especially in the city. After the leaves fell the next heavy shower to come along washed the same leaves into piles and into gutters, stopped up drainage and caused pools of water at intersections and elsewhere. Many crossings were flooded as a result. From the time the rain started until [illegible] o'clock Sunday evening the rain had totaled 1.11 and prospect was that it would be over 2 inches by Monday evening unless the weather cleared off earlier in the day.

RIVER UP

Monday morning the river was said to have raised about three inches since the rain started and of course it will continue to raise for some time.

Needless to say the roads are far too muddy for auto travel and no one will consider starting a pleasure tour right now. In fact autoists are justly becoming peeved at the above mentioned Pluvius for he has spoiled at least three of the last four Sundays by rain and October Sundays are always counted upon as good days for auto riding.

Many farmers are in the midst of corn shucking but they will now take an enforced layoff for some days unless a freeze should come and freeze the ground hard enough for them to continue their work. While it has been far too warm for freezing yet at least one woman claims to have seen a few, a very few, snowflakes falling Sunday afternoon.

UNUSUAL MONTH

While the month of October so far has not proven a record breaker in any way, yet it has been an unusual month. The mean temperature for the month up to date has been about [illegible] degrees above the normal while the precipitation threatens to be an inch or more above the normal.

3 OR 4 DOZEN INSTEAD OF 3 OR 4 EGGS, A DAY

This Shows How Idle Hens Can Be Made to Produce Money in Winter.

When I began using Don Sung in December I was getting only 2 or 3 eggs a day from 30 hens. Within three weeks before I had finished a 60 cents package of Don Sung, I was getting from 3 to 4 dozen each day. I shall never be without Don Sung.—Jemima Hedges, R. F. D. No. 1, Shumway, Ill.

Three or four dozen eggs a day at winter prices was almost clear profit. Your hens should do as well. It's no trouble to use Don Sung. Try it under this offer:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) acts directly on the egg-laying organs and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send 60 cents for a package by mail prepaid to Burrell-Dugger Co., [illegible] Indianapolis, Ind.

Not How Much Coal You Can Pay For But How Much You Can Get

The fuel question for the home this winter will be a question of how much coal is mined, not how much money the individual has with which to pay the price asked.

A man might have $500 and be willing to pay it for coal, but if none is being mined, or if under a new scale, the output is greatly reduced, his money is worthless as clay—it will not buy what is still down the coal shaft.

No Matter How the Miners' Threatened Strike Goes, the Shortage is Certain

Science during the war offered an answer to practically every new requirement. Science is still working efficiently in your favor. His latest offering is the

Why You Should Be Saving Coal

—From Decatur Herald, Saturday, Oct 25.

"Washington—John L Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America announced after the break-up of the conference that the strike order stood and that half a million soft coal miners would quit work Nov 1 Official notice that mediation efforts had failed will be sent at once to all districts, Lewis added

"All apparent home of averting the strike set for Nov. 1, the eve of winter, vanished when Secretary Wilson's four day conference with the scale committees of the miners and operators broke up, despite the appeal of President Wilson from his sick bed"

Scovill Air Burner

The stove which guarantees you more heat for less fuel. It is the stove which takes the simple question of combustion, and makes it certain that the elements which cause combustion are present in sufficient quantities for greater efficiency.

You cannot make a match burn in an airtight jar—as soon as the oxygen in the air inside the jar has been consumed, the flame will go out.

If only part of the necessary oxygen is permitted to enter the jar, the match will burn longer, but in the end it will go out with the wood only partially burned.

How This Scientific Stove Does It

In the SCOVILL AIR BURNER, an air-spray valve takes in air from outside the stove, feeding it into a combustion chamber where it is heated to the proper temperature, then sprayed out over the fire box. In the illustration, science is pointing out the parts of the stove which accomplish this important result.

It requires 1,872 cubic inches of air to secure the complete cumbustion of one cubic inch of coal. If only a part of this air supply is fed into the fire box, the unburned gases go up the flue and are wasted.

The SCOVILL AIR BURNER is scientifically equipped to provide enough air so that 100 per cent combustion is secured. That is why we are willing to guarantee you a substantial saving in the amount of your fuel, and why it is possible to burn CHEAPER FUEL with just as satisfactory results as you have had with higher priced fuel.

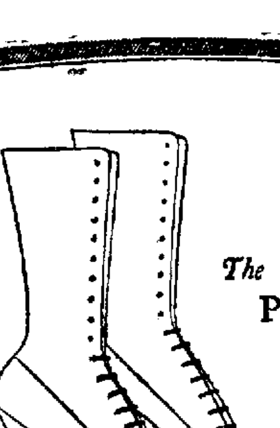

Our Supply Is Limited

Shortage of materials and limited production has prevented our obtaining as large a stock of the SCOVILL AIR BURNERS as we planned to manufacture this year. Consequently, if you are considering buying a stove, we must urge that you give prompt attention to that important duty. We know that you cannot buy any other stove that will give you the same amount of heat from the amount of fuel consumed. Let us prove this to you.

Come in and see this wonderful stove that is to supercede all other stoves and furnaces

HUNT OPPOSED TO 3 PROPOSITIONS

Sees Danger in "I. and R." as at Present.

ISSUES STATEMENT

Refused to Sign in Favor of Measures.

Robert I Hunt candidate for constitutional convention delegate is against the three propositions on the "I and R" amendments to appear on the ballots Nov 4 He is very strong in his declaration that it would not be sound public policy for the voter to pass favorably upon the proposition as submitted

While claiming to be a sincere friend of the real Initiative and Referendum law when properly guarded and surrounded with necessary restrictions for the protection of majorities as well as minorities, Mr Hunt believes that there are inherent dangers lurking behind the present propositions In fact he goes so far as to say that he believes that if enacted into a law in its present shape it would be a definite attack upon representative constitutional government

REFUSED TO SIGN

Mr Hunt refused to sign up in favor of the I. and R amendments though he says there were strong pressure brought to bear upon him

Mr Hunt in answering a request of the Initiative and Referendum and Gateway Amendment League, took occasion to say that he was not in favor of the first proposition in the manner and way in which it was put up that he did not think the question was drawn up in a proper manner nor that it would be a wise law if finally approved in that form He objected to question No 2 for the same reason He did not approve of question No 3, even se he was not at that time so sited that all of the so-called utilities named therein should be run as public utilities and he expressed himself as being totally out of sympathy with the clause which permitted the acquirement of these various utilities for public use outside and beyond the constitutional debt limitations

He called attention to the fact that the vote at the coming election would be small and therefore not truly expressive of the will of any reasonable number of people of Illinois and that if the people are to rule there must be some limitation in any such law that will make it truly representative of something reasonably near a clear majority of the people

FAVORS BASIC PRINCIPLE

Mr Hunt insists that he is in favors of the underlying principle of Initiative and Referendum, and that he looks with favor on some well devised method in our proposed constitution that will give genuine Initiative and Referendum He points out that without some reasonable limitations surrounding these proposed acts, they can be drawn by persons unknown to the public that the purpose for which they are drawn can be skillfully hidden in beautiful phraseology and the public thereby be misled The State of Illinois he says, has already had up in their legislature an initiative and referendum bill and that there was in that bill a protection against the very thing that he just mentioned above in the way of a requirement which compelled submission to a board composed of the governor, attorney general and secretary of state, with power to pass upon the sufficiency of any initiative and referendum petition and that when approved by them its sufficiency should not be questioned by any court This is what is meant by reference to checks and balances and by throwing around questions of public policy reasonable limitations

Said Mr Hunt This is an hour calling for real conservatism The brain of the world is just recovering from the most awful shock of centuries It is preeminently a time for clear thinking masterful courage and utmost caution Let us proceed carefully and methodically lest we err I have a firm belief in the ultimate good sense and judgment of the people These statements that are made herein will not satisfy everybody I cannot hope to do that, but I am willing to stand or fall by these declarations

HIS STATEMENT

Mr Hunt in his statement says Upon the ballot which will be handed the voter on November 4 next in addition to the list of the three candidates for delegate to the constitutional convention will be found a proposal of three questions of public policy

First initiative and referendum
Second gateway amendment
Third public ownership

ASK WRITTEN PLEDGE

These proposals are backed by the Initiative and Referendum and Gateway Amendment League of Illinois Every candidate for delegate has been asked to sign a written pledge that he will support at the polls and in the convention the three propositions submitted

Question No 1 read

Shall the members of the Fifth Constitutional Convention be instructed to submit a proposal for the initiative and referendum the initiative as herein used meaning the power to bring proposed laws and constitutional amendments to popular vote at any regular election by petition of 100,000 electors [illegible] and approved by a majority of those voting thereon the term referendum as herein used meaning the power to suspend specific act or acts of the legislature by petition of 50,000 electors at large until such act or acts shall have been referred to popular vote and approved by a majority of those voting thereon said powers of the initiative and referendum also to be understood as being extended by the constitution to the electors of every municipality and other political and municipal legislation in and for their respective municipalities, subdivisions, or districts

TOO EASILY CHANGED

"The objections urged against question No 1 are that while it might be wise to have the power of intiative well within the hands of the people, particularly as regards the proposal of laws American jurisprudence has always insisted it is not wise to have the ability of constitutional amendment so easily obtained for the reason that the constitution is supposed to be a shield and protector not only of the minorities but of majorities as well and that to have the power of amending our constitution at any one of the numerous regular elections would be to remove the check and balance which is the bulwark not only of state constitutions but also of the national constitution

Objection is also raised to the limited number of people that can either initiate legislation or have the acts of the legislature made the subject of referendum

NOT CLEARLY EXPRESSED

Attention is also called to the fact that the tail end of question No 1 the phraseology is such as to suggest that there is some purpose that is not there clearly expressed There are many who believe that this is the opening wedge for the introduction into our taxing system of the principle of single tax It is further urged that the turmoil and unsettled conditions of public opinion would be constantly in a state of flux owing to the ease with which all such questions could be introduced For this reason it is deemed by many that the acceptance of question No 1 at this time is not in the interest of public policy

QUESTION TWO

Question No 2 reads —

Shall the members of the Fifth Constitutional Convention be instructed to submit the proposal for the initiative and referendum as defined in question No 1, for a separate vote in such manner that said proposal if approved by a majority of those voting thereon shall take effect either as a part of a new constitution or as an amendment to article 1 section 1 of the present constitution

Question No 2 seems to make an effort to amend our present constitution without going through the formalities named in the constitution

QUESTION THREE

Question No 3 is

Shall the members of the Fifth Constitutional Convention be instructed to submit to the electors a constitutional provision granting to the State and to the Cities Towns Villages and other municipal corporations and districts the power to acquire outside utilities such as water works gas works electric light and power telephone and telegraph systems electric railways warehouses elevators wharves docks cold storage plants stock yards abattoirs and mines

The question here presented to the voting public is simply this Shall each one of the political units of the state have the power on the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast at any regular election to borrow money on the credit of the property contained within that political unit outside of and beyond its constitutional debt limitation which at the present time is 5 per cent of the assessed valuation of the property therein This is thought by many to be an extremely dangerous proposition It is surrounded by no restrictions or safeguards It is based on the theory that a simple majority of the votes cast at any general election can vest each political unit equally with a power to buy almost anything that directly or indirectly serves the public

GRAVE QUESTION

It is a very grave question as to whether or not the hard-headed people of the State of Illinois are ready for such a radical proposition as this All of these questions are submitted under the general plea of letting the people rule There are probably 50,000 votes in the 28th senatorial district At the coming election it is quite doubtful whether there will be 6,000 votes cast so that the determination of these vital matters would be approved not by the people of the district, but by one-tenth of them It is not a sufficient answer to say that they all have the opportunity to vote there should be reasonable safeguards around legislation of this character which would protect honest well-intentioned citizens which would protect communities from the sudden swaying of the passions and which should be surrounded by the checks and balances that are found present in that document upon which all state constitutions would do well to copy

WHY BLAME THE FOREIGNER?

These days we often hear a story about our woes being attributed to the coming of foreign-born labor in times past.

And perhaps at the same time you heard in other quarters that one of the biggest economical advantages this country has ever enjoyed is to be found in the labor that comes to it from abroad. Very sensible men have insisted on this point; some of these now see a rather trying time ahead because likely the old-time immigration will drop off.

Perhaps it is well not to be in a hurry to lay our troubles at the door of the foreign-born who has come to us. He has been coming to this country a long while, in fact from the beginning of the white man's days. If Columbus had not discovered the country possibly there would now be no white man's troubles here.

Better take a look at ourselves who were born here. Have we done the part that was reasonably expected of us?

THE NAIL ON THE HEAD.

President Wilson was very clear and concise in the statement he sent Friday afternoon to the miners and operators meeting with Secretary Wilson. In it he says:

"After all, the public interest in this matter is the paramount consideration of the government."

That puts the matter in just the position the public of this country should like to have it.

Not only is the public's interest in this matter paramount, as has been often stated; it is also the "paramount consideration of the government."

We take it that President Wilson means every word of this. There are but few words, you note, and they to the point. Usually when a man expresses himself in this fashion he means it.

And the public is glad to have the message.

OUR MODEST CLAIMS.

A press dispatch Saturday told that 500 ships were tied up in New York harbor. Some of these ships had been there for weeks.

This is hardly the way to save the world; it isn't the way to go about it to help distressed conditions in any corner of the world.

All the ships afloat are badly needed, never more so than at this time. There are not nearly enough of these to do the work that offers, work that must be done if deserving people are to be saved from utter starvation.

And yet 500 ships are tied up in New York. And all this time we are claiming to be the foremost and most intelligent people in the world. There must be times when other folks suspect we are not troubled with modesty in the matter of making claims.

MIGHT TRY AGAIN.

The group that represented the public at the Industrial conference in Washington decided it was hardly worth while to try to continue the work alone. The reason assigned by the members was that the group was not sufficiently representative to undertake a general program.

It strikes us the members were correct in this position. This group was selected to work in conjunction with two others. Had it been selected to carry on the work alone, it perhaps would have been made larger, and there must have been some changes in personnel.

But the idea of a representative group to carry on this kind of work for the public should not be abandoned. It looks as if there must be merit in the plan. And just now one can't lay hands on some other plan that will work.

UP TO GOVERNOR LOWDEN.

At this time several wheelhorses in Illinois are banding themselves together to boom Governor Lowden for the presidency. They hold meetings and name numerous committees. They are pretty sure to capture the party delegation from this state to the national convention.

But the big work in this campaign will have to be done by Governor Lowden himself. It is remarked by many that in the months ahead he will have opportunities to show the stuff of which he is made.

It is not a wild guess to say that the next three or four months will develop the man who is to come to the front in the next presidential election. On the Republican side just now a half dozen or more are plodding along neck and neck, a kind of slow and waiting race. One of these, or some one not thought of now, will make a dash ahead and leave the others in the might-have-been class.

IT ISN'T A GOVERNMENT.

Just to fill in the time, a gathering in Peoria put through a resolution calling upon the United States to recognize the Soviet government of Russia.

It was a queer thing to do. In the first place why speak of the Soviet spasm as government? It is composed of Reds who confine their activities to murder and plunder. The murder is incidental, the big thing is to keep on plundering.

One would no more call this thing government than he would give the same name to the activities of highwaymen in America.

And of course it is ridiculously late in the day to call for the recognition of the Bolsh. That time has gone by; the thing is no longer possible. It should not be thinkable in possible American circles.

MAKE HASTE SLOWLY.

The gentlemen who are anxious to reintroduce German opera in this country are perhaps not handling the matter in a way to expedite the thing they desire.

In New York City there is a pitched battle over this matter, with the American Legion in the fight. There have been official legal opinions, and then the courts came along with injunctions to set aside the opinions. Naturally this has not helped, but perhaps assistance from that quarter was not expected.

If they can bring themselves to wait a little while, be patient, this German opera will come along all right, provided enough people want it to give it support. If there is a free-for-all fight over the thing, a general rough house, the day of that opera is sure to be postponed for a time.

It is a case in which good sense is needed by the managers of the revival.

THESE WON'T WORK.

Leaving out the cranks, it is noted that most people in this state who have given some attention to Initiative and Referendum are opposed to the propositions that will appear on the advisory ballot in November.

I. & R. is a rather ticklish matter that can be easily abused, in fact be made a serious menace. In some states the thing has been made almost ridiculous at times. Propositions that are now presented in this state will not work to the public advantage—perhaps some of the backers don't intend they shall.

A Decatur visitor in Chicago heard one woman ask another: "Say, have you small change for a dime?" And both women appeared to be natives of the big town.

Yes, the farmer will keep on producing hogs. At times some grumbling may be done in his name, but he keeps right along with the work that needs to be done.

Just to emphasize the fact that Millikin was not overconfident, its football boys piled up a score of 7 and then held Lombard at the zero mark.

The forecaster says "colder and fair" for this week, except some sprinkle as a starter. But we have quit betting the bottom dollar on the forecaster.

When you make a speaking date with a governor these days you can't be sure he will find time to deliver the goods.

It is perhaps still fair to assume that the man who keeps busy at honest work will finish somewhere near the front.

They stopped all trains for an hour early Sunday morning. That was hardly what you would call time saved.

There is one thing always to be said for laying in a coal supply early; it is safety first.

A cabinet member says "I'm for the fight." On which side is he ranged?

Champaign county isn't sure whether it has too many huskers or too little corn.

Today your clock isn't ashamed to look you in the face.

There were tears in Secretary Wilson's eyes, but really we didn't need a blubberer on that job.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

THE DRAWBACK.

This is the story of Timothy Wise,
Timothy Wise who is known everywhere.
There isn't a city or village of size
But what this remarkable brother is there.
He never has risen to glory or fame,
His fortune a school boy could readily count
But still there's no prize that this man couldn't claim,
No ladder that he couldn't really mount.
He ought to be famous and wealthy today.
He can write, so he tells us, in prose or in rhyme;
He could paint a great picture or model in clay
But somehow or other he never gets time.

There's never a book that he reads, but he knows
That he could write one that would beat it a mile.
He could pen a great play, but you know how it goes—
The chores of the day must be done all the while.
If he could stop working and just settle down
To using the talents he claims to possess
There's nothing could keep him from fame and renown,
Without any doubt he would be a success.
He could teach men in Wall Street the ways of finance
Or outpreach the preachers in language sublime;
Against him there's no one who'd stand any chance
If somehow or other he just had the time.

You men who have given your lives to your toil,
You men who have labored professions to learn
Have struggled and studied and burned midnight oil
Your feeble successes and glories to earn,
Beware of ahe menace which hovers and lies
Low over your heads as you prosper today;
For the thought may occur to this Timothy Wise
To jump in and take all your honors away.
He'll write all the books and he'll write all the plays,
He'll pass you all by when he starts in to climb;
He'll make all the money and claim all the praise
If ever the day comes when he has the time.

About Town

DID you get your clock set right when the time was changed Sunday morning? Did you set it "forward" or "back" and were you sure just which it was to be?

One of Decatur's most prominent people, residing on Prairie avenue and an active member of the First Presbyterian church called up one of the officials of that church Sunday morning to ask what was the matter at the church.

She said that she had been to the church and had found it locked.

"Well," replied the church official, "it isn't time yet for the church to be opened."

"I don't see why it isn't," replied the complainant over the telephone. "It is twenty minutes past ten by the clock right here by my elbow."

"Well it is only twenty minutes past eight by the clock right here by my telephone," replied the church official who lived less than a block away.

"Did you set your clock for the new time?" he asked.

"Of course I did," replied the church member. "I set the clock up an hour."

"Well you are just two hours fast, you should have set it back an hour. The church will be opened on time and we hope to see you there," replied the church man.

PEARL INMAN, aged sixteen, and her two little sisters, Lena and Gladys, who have been staying with their grandmother at Livingston, Ky., were in the city Saturday on their way to Clinton, where their father, John Inman, resides. The agent at Louisville routed them from that city to Indianapolis, thence to Champaign, thence to Decatur over the I. T. S., and from here to Clinton on the Illinois Central, when they could have gone from Champaign to Clinton on the Central, without change. They landed in the I. T. S. station here Saturday morning, did not know but that that was the only passenger station in the city, and waited there all day for an Illinois Central train to come along. Mrs. Wagenseller got them started for Clinton at 9 05 Saturday night.

HOW "Town and Gown" can get together with good results for both in a common feeling of pleasure and fun was shown in the singing and cheering which about 200 students put on in an impromptu Millikin university celebration of the victory over the Lombard football game Saturday night at the Lincoln Square theater.

Curtis Busher, noticing an unusual number of students in the audience, spoke to the leader of the orchestra who started the musicians into the well known Millikin song of "Alla Rah." Busher climbed on to the stage, called for cheers and for the singing by the students of the college song.

Other songs followed for a short time ending with more cheers much to the delight of others in the audience.

Ten Years Ago Today In Decatur

OCTOBER 27, 1909.

Mrs. C. H. Sandon, 913 East Main, received a letter from her brother, Patrick O'Connor, whom she had not heard of for twelve years.

The state was again trying to secure a conviction againnst the Decatur Brewing Co., charging them with the sale of intoxicating liquor in their White Banner temperance beer.

Twenty-five Linn & Scruggs employes had a chicken supper and 'possum hunt at the Jacobs farm west of the city. Two 'possums were caught.

About eleven clerks from the Gebhart store gave a shower for Miss Mabel Hockaday, who was to be married soon to Charles Wysong.

W. F. Niehaus, Wabash fireman, was one of the successful ones, in drawing a farm at Aberdeen, S. D.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

The first bloodshed in the miners' strike took place, two union miners being injured and two non-union miners were locked in jail.

The term of Walter F. Colliday as major of the Third battalion, Fifth regiment, I. N. G., expired. He had been a member of Co. H for twenty-two years.

Baby Bliss was in town attracting the usual crowd.

Hams were selling at 9¼ cents a pound and pork steak at 8 1-3 cents a pound.

The Congregational Sunday school gave a "Sweet Sixteen" entertainment.

TUSCOLA WOMEN DISCUSS HOUSES

Tuscola, Oct. 27.—The Household Science Department of the Tuscola Women's club held its regular study meeting on Saturday afternoon in the club rooms. There was a good attendance and the subject for lesson study was, "Planning the House and Building a Home."

The program as arranged provided that each member should sumbit the floor plans for a house embodying her own ideas for a home. While all present did not submit such plans, a number did and the sketches were exchanged and commented on freely. Heating and plumbing arrangements were discussed at length, with the ladies present being about everly divided in favoring hot water and hot air heating systems. A new warm air system that has recently been installed in Tuscola, created considerable interest and was fully discussed. On account of the absence from the city of Mrs. M. E. Bigelow, her topic, "Electricity, The Servant in The Home," will be given at the next study meeting of the department.

DECLARED INSANE.

Frederick Zelmer, living in the north part of Garrett township was declared to be a person of feeble mind, by a commission in the county court under Judge Wamsley on Saturday, Peter Volmer, was appointed conservator in charge of the property of the unfortunate man.

TO OBSERVE AUTOMOBILE DAY.

The program prepared by the book concern of the church for "Good Literature day," was carried out at the Tuscola Methodist church, by Rev. E. S. Combs the pastor, on Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Combs has planned to hold "Automobile Day," on next Sunday morning when all members and friends of the church who are owners of automobiles are requested to load their automobiles with people of their block or neighborhood and bring them to church. On next Sunday evening at the regular preaching hour, Mrs. C. K. Monrohead will give her "Children's Hour" as was given at the recent Missionary Society convention held here. A special meeting of the official board to consider some contemplated repairs and improvements to the basement of the church, was announced for Monday evening at 7:30.

RAIN STOPS AUTOMOBILES.

On account of a gentle but steady rain that begun here shortly after 10 o'clock on Saturday night and continued practically all the time until after day light on Sunday morning, there was very little automobile driving here on Sunday. The dirt roads of the surrounding country were too muddy and slippery for any automobile trips that were not really necessary and about the only cars seen were those of people on the paved streets or the short strips of hard road surrounding the town. The rain continued to fall in showers during the morning hours of Sunday. Soon after noon it begun coming down steady and was raining hard at dark on Sunday evening.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTEBOOK

I found a horseshoe on my way home frum skool yestidday, being a hole horse shoe exsept a little hunk broak off of one end, me thinking, G good luck.

And I took it home to nale it up over my door, ony I couldnt find a nale so I used a pin, getting up on a chair and hammering it in with the back of my hair brush, thinking, Now if I suddinly start in having good luck after this, Ill know the reason.

Wich I dident have eny speshil good luck the rest of the day, and this morning pop called me to get up 3 times without me realizing I was heering him, and the 4th time he called up, Benny, if you dont hop up out of that Ill come up there after you, and if I do youll wish I hadent. Proberly meaning he would give me a cupple of kracks, and I laid there a while longer keeping on starting to get up, and the forst thing I knew I was asleep agen, and the next thing I know sumbody was yelling, Owtch, confownd it to blazes, owtch, holey smoaks owtch.

Being pop standing there holding one ankel on account of the horse shoe having fell down and hit it me saying, It aint my fawlt, pop, it aint my fawlt, it must be on account of the hunk out of the end of it.

What are you blithering about, you condowned merderer? sed pop.

The little hunk out of the end must of kepp it frum being lucky, I sed.

O, how intensely intristing, you little assassin, how did you have it fassened up there, enyway? sed pop.

With a pin, I sed.

With a pin, of all the bone hedded tricks I ever heard of, thats the bone heddedest, get up now out of that and go to skool and lern a little sents, sed pop.

And he gave me 4 fearse kracks with his hand some place, me being lucky I was under the covers but wishing I was under more. And I quick got up and started to get dressed, thinking some time I mite try a horse shoe without a hunk out of it, but not being sure.

PRIZES TO THREE "TAG DAY" WORKERS

Eight Girls Collect More Than $40 Each for Fund.

Prizes were given to three girls who collected more than $40 each in the Roosevelt Memorial tag day Saturday. These girls were Bernice Deetz, who collected $56.02; Lucile Pickle, who collected $55.86, and Miss Fox, $53.13.

Other girls who collected more than $40 each were Catherine Freeman Aileen Doren, Frances Jack, Twila Miller and May Meyers. Seventy-two girls were at work, divided into three teams, the red, white, and blue led by Ruth Roberts, Mary Foran and Idelia Davis. The reds collected the most money.

MISS ADDAMS TELLS A SIMPLE CURE

"No one can say that Decatur audiences are wholly rude after their gracious reception to Miss Addams," said young Mrs. Stevens to her next door neighbor.

"What was that? I couldn't go. My husband's cousin came in from Mt. Zion and brought me some sugar. And of course one carries sugar messengers around on a feather. Beware, the guests who don't bring gifts of sweets. The grist to my mill is sug—"

"Oh, forget sugar for a moment. When Miss Addams came forward to speak, the audience rose by a single impulse to greet her. And, unaffected woman that she is, she was fussed. Her embarrassment was charming, and I thought the greeting was graceful, too—for Decatur."

"Yes, it was thoughtful. It shows. I suppose that genuine goodness never fails of appreciation. We may be a little late in showing it, but we did arrive."

"Miss Addams has always been an inspiration to me in a way that she could never have dreamed. It's hard to put into words. But I have for years used her initials like a spiritual counter irritant. Don't you know when your family M. D. gives you a prescription, it has an R with a little X on its tail and some more dope trailing along? You can make out a word, maybe, Valerian if you are hysterical, or Cascara Sagrada or sich.

"And so I use an R with an X on its tail and the words 'Jane Addams.' 'My dear Addams with two D's' as Lincoln used to write to her father.

"Well, I've needed her prescription a good deal here of late. I've been sick in the mind a whole lot. And she gave me a fresh drug tonight. It's the simplest drug in the whole pharmacopeia of human experience. But no one seems to want to use it much any more. Its a queer drug, too. It's one you can't choke down an unwilling patient like castor oil. The patient has to want to take it. We all know that it is upon the shelf. And it is cheap. The soul doctor will give it away. And the shining angel of a drug clerk will wrap it up free, and furnish paper and cord. "Well, you know how it is. D'yu recollect a young chap named George Patullo that wrote war stuff for the Saturday Evening Post? Men folk all liked his breezy stuff. He's a story in this week, or an article, as the old ladies say. A hard headed common sense bit of stuff about the U. S. and Europe.

"'Have a care,' it says. 'Have a care. Don't be milked. Americans are simple minded idiots. Sentimental and idealistic and all that. All that Europe wants of us is what we can give. Europe has been taught to hate in years of bondage. To be suspicious. And to keep an eye out on the main chance. Beware! Money Food. Reconstruction. That is what they want out of us over there. Let 'em fight their own battles,' says Georgie. 'Notice how, when American aid was withdrawn in the Balkans, those people didn't take up that relief work. They dropped it. Notice how they all milk us for help. Don't be too soft. Don't pull their chestnuts out of the fire—, and so on.'

"Well, that is Scotch. And thrifty. And I fell for it hard. I cursed myself for wanting to feed the whole world. Called myself a fool and all that. Wondered how I could ever have been so soft.

"And even yet I don't quarrel with Mr. Patullo. What he says is all true, I've no doubt. Americans do let themselves be worked. And Europeans are suspicious and selfish in spots.

"And then last night I heard Miss Addams. You read what she said? How she has just been through all Europe and saw the starved children. In England and France where they are hungry and thin. Among even the Germans, in the Balkans, the Russians and the Armenians, where they die in hordes for lack of food. She said it so simply. 'A hungry child is a hungry child—French, Slav or Saxon. We must do what we can to feed them. And in the meantime feed the hungry ones here.'

"And I blushed under the skin like Judy O'Grady. I don't say even yet that there is any quarrel between the two. No doubt he is right, as are all the folk who are long behind the ears.

"But she is big in the heart. And that seems after all, a better physiological infirmity. I am so glad that she is. For my sake. Because when I get confused with the whither-are-we-drifters at my ears, I get out that R with the X on its tail and fill it out for myself. Not Valerian for the hysterical Bolsheviks, nor Cascara Sagrada for the costive minded reactionaries. But the simplest drug in the world—Miss Addams' love for the Heart.

"I advise it. It cures. When you feel the world pot is boiling over and the best fat of the land is in the fire, take a brace. Don't forget that tender intelligent woman in Hull House. And that some time her prescription will cure. M. L."

Diphtheria

A sore throat is a good breeding place for Diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can wisely depend upon TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance in that throat weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs. Keep TONSILINE in the house always. 35c., 60c. and $1.00.

ODD FELLOWS IN ANNUAL MEET

Promises to Be Biggest Ever Held.

IN SPRINGFIELD

Parades, Pageants and Other Features.

Arrangements made for the annual sessions of Illinois Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, to be held in Springfield from Nov. 17 to 20, inclusive, promise the biggest convention meetings these orders have ever held. John H. Sikes of Springfield, state secretary of the Odd Fellows, has just completed the formal programs for the various sessions.

The I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge will be in session from Nov. 18 to 20, the Grand Encampment from Nov. 17 to 20, and the Rebekah State Assembly from Nov. 18 to 20.

One of the features of the conventions will be the Centennial Parade, in which the orders will unite, on the afternoon of Wednesday, Nov. 19. Large delegations from the Grand Lodge, Grand Encampment and Rebekah Assembly, a Centennial class of 1,000 candidates who are to receive the third degree, several bands and a large number of floats will aid in making the parade one of the biggest ever held in Springfield, according to local Odd Fellows.

WILL GIVE PAGEANT.

On the evening of Nov. 18 the Rebekahs are to present an elaborate Centennial Pageant in the state arsenal, including a historical pageant in honor of the founder of Odd Fellowship, Thomas Wildy. The other orders will hold no formal sessions that night in order to join with the Rebekahs in the celebration of the pageant.

Meetings of the Grand Lodge I O O F. are to be held in the state arsenal, the regular sessions beginning at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 18. The Grand Encampment will meet in the senate chamber of the state house, its sessions beginning Tuesday morning, Nov. 18. The sessions of the Rebekahs are to be held at the First Christian church, beginning at 9 a. m. Nov. 19. Special sessions will precede the convening of the regular meetings.

The sessions of all three conventions are to be of unusual importance this year in view of the fact that a number of questions of important legislation are slated to come up for action. The return of so many members of the Odd Fellows from service is also expected to swell the attendance to a much larger figure than that of any previous year, and Springfield Odd Fellows are making extensive plans for the entertainment of the delegates and visitors while they are in Springfield.

Oyster Supper.

Sangamon Tribe, No. 145, I. O. R. M., will have an oyster supper for its members after the meeting next Wednesday night.

Don't Be Dyspeptic

You don't have to suffer the misery of dyspepsia or indigestion. You don't have to weaken your whole system by depriving it of nourishment because you can't digest your food.

Eupepsia Tablets have been prepared for just such a case as yours. And they will stop your dyspepsia or indigestion, no matter how acute or chronic, promptly and positively. The first dose will convince you. Then you take Eupepsia Tablets whenever you need them. Nothing known to science has accomplished such results.

Church

FIRST METHODISTS RECEIVES STUDENTS

Affiliate With Local Church for School Year.

Thirty-eight students, mostly Millikin, were received into affiliated membership into the First Methodist church Sunday morning. The church has an arrangement whereby students may be received into such membership without severing their relation with their home churches. The group of young people was called to the front and the pastor, Rev. F. A. Harrighurst, gave them an advisory talk.

The church has a large student constituency, and the student class of the Sunday school, taught by William Casey, is growing in attendance and interest. About fifty were present Sunday. The young people's department had the largest attendance it has ever had.

ONE BY LETTER

One person was received by letter at the morning service, also. The pastor spoke on the theme, "The Word of Prophecy Made More Sure." A five minute address was made by one of the four-minute men Charles Imboden, who talked on "Good Literature Day." This day is to be observed next Sunday. Mr. Imboden emphasized in his talk the importance of Christian literature.

A union young people's service was held in the evening, led by Mrs. C. L. Boyer. The evening church service was given over to the addresses by Charities workers.

From Jelly Covering to Street Covering

WHEN you think of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) you visualize instantly gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oil.

True, these are the three fundamental products of manufacture, but the Company is proud of the fact that its service enters your life by many other doors.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service, by keen initiative and ceaseless effort, is able to supply you with more than 2000 useful products, all made from petroleum.

The humble paraffin which seals your jelly glasses against the inroads of ferments, and the asphalt which covers the streets you drive upon, are by-products of petroleum, and there are hundreds of others, all servants of your daily needs.

Scores of other products, each vital to some specific industry, which in turn supplies you with needed merchandise, are made, wholly or in part, from portions of the crude oil which otherwise would be waste.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products are delivered by a network of stations and distribution systems, so complete that every hamlet of the Middle West is supplied.

Notwithstanding the wide range of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service, the Company is constantly striving to increase the number of useful products, and to intensify its service, so that it may fulfill to the utmost its obligation as a public servant.

JEWISH DRIVE HAS GOOD START

$2,000 Subscribed in Meeting Sunday Night.

JUDGE PAM SPEAKS

Three Contributions of $200 or More.

The Jewish Relief drive had an encouraging opening Sunday night when $2,000 was subscribed by the Zionists in their meeting in the Eagles hall following an address by Judge Hugo Pam of Chicago. STATE CONFERENCE DELEGATES LEAVE

Peace Time Problems Discussed Sunday.

Ending what was very generally agreed by all of the prominent workers in the state conference of charities and corrections as the best state meeting ever held, peace time problems of the Red Cross and War Camp Community Service and The New Democratization were discussed at a meeting at the First M. E. church Sunday night.

This meeting was largely attended by Decatur people as the delegates had very generally left for their homes Saturday night and Sunday particularly after the meeting held during the afternoon at the First Presbyterian church.

NEIGHBORLINESS

Advocating the continuance of the neighborliness among citizens of every community, started by the war activities, Henry L. Allen in speaking of the community work yet to be done suggested that block chairmen be appointed so that this close tie of common citizenship and interest be cemented and strengthened. Mr. Allen spoke of the great growth in this friendliness which had come out of the war and pleaded for its continuance.

That the Red Cross, the now most famous of all American organizations, had great peace functions to perform was the basis of the talk by Walter F. Davidson, district director of civilian relief for the Red Cross. General relief as in other times, the training of nurses, establishment of health centers, home service for the returned wounded men or their families and the development of the Junior Red Cross were some of the tasks which Mr. Davidson said now faced the American Red Cross.

HEAR BIG WORKERS

During the day and evening Decatur churches had the opportunity of hearing some of the best known social service workers of Illinois.

Judge Hugo Pam of Chicago spoke at Grace Methodist. Dr. George [illegible] of Springfield spoke at the Congregational. Dr. W. T. Cross, secretary of the National Society of Social Workers and Dr. H. Douglas Singer, director of the State Psycopathic Institute made addresses at the Central Church of Christ.

AT ST. PATRICKS

Father F. W. Maguire, professor of sociology at St. Viator college, Bourbonnais, spoke at St. Patrick's church in the evening.

Father Maguire also spoke at the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon on "Making Industry Safe for Democracy."

Father Maguire criticised the attitude of Gary in the steel strike saying that industry must be democratized both from above and below to bring about industrial peace.

At the same meeting Dr. Frank P. Norbury, one of the most noted alienists of the state, pleaded for more attention to mental hygiene and the establishment of mental clinics for the betterment of the treatment of feeble minded persons.

BARBERRY WILL HAVE TO GO

Death Warrants Issued for Shrubs Dangerous to Wheat.

Those red tickets which are seen on many of the shrubs about some of the best residences in Decatur are not the familiar red "Sold" ticket taken from a furniture sale. Each is the death warrant of that particular bush on which it is hung.

The ticket has printed on it a general head line "Dangerous Shrub" and following the headline is the statement that this bush is the common barberry which is dangerous to wheat because it produces the disease known as black stem rust in that grain.

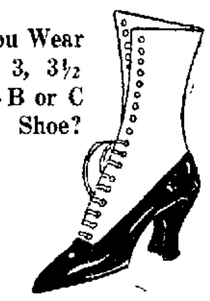

REQUESTED BY STATE

A request that the shrub be destroyed is printed on the ticket. Doubtless if the owner does not take this action the state department of agriculture will have the work done.

The Japanese barberry is not under the ban but the shrubbery around a number of handsome homes will show large gaps next spring as a result of this campaign against species known as common, which does the damage.

PANA FARMERS TALK DAIRYING

Pana, Oct. 27.—Farmers of this vicinity held a largely attended meeting Saturday afternoon to discuss the dairy cow possibilities in their neighborhood. Leaders in promoting the meeting were, E. L. White, president of the Pana National bank and J. L. Benjamin, manager of the Sugar Creek Creamery.

Mr. White had sent out a large number of invitations asking farmers to attend the meeting, which was very informal. S. S. Veck of Cartersville, secretary of the Cartersville Bull club and Mr. O'Hair of Paris, were secured by the promoters to give talks.

IMPROVE LANDS

The Jersey grade cow was the one considered. Mr. Veck, a business man, not engaged in farming, told that for years a few cows had been kept on the poor lands of his section of the country and that the business interests finally got together and furnished the necessary financial backing to improve the quality of the dairy cow. Within a few years, four milk stations were established in Cartersville, the farmers were prospering and the soil was improved.

Mr. O'Hair, an extensive stock raiser and dairyman spoke of his experiences. He advised going into the dairy business gradually, not with a big plunge. He said that the breed must be improved upon from the start, but warned that every Jersey cow is not necessarily a profitable cow. The weight of the butter fat under the test and not the form or the color, is what counts, he said. He advised testing every cow and getting rid of the poor milker. From figures from his own farm, he demonstrated that the ensilage, straw, soy beans and clover fed to the cows brought him a return equivalent to $40 a ton.

KEEPS ACCURATE ACCOUNTS

Accurately kept accounts, charging labor, feed and all expense of keeping the cows and crediting the cows with the milk sold and the manure value, showed an average profit of $132.50 per cow. Mr. O'Hair brought out many valuable hints for the stock man and the farmer, the most important being to raise everything fed and keep away from the high priced feed which is shipped in.

The Pana National Bank representatives expressed their willingness, after plans had been perfected, to furnish the financial backing necessary. Fifty persons expressed themselves interested in joining an organization for bettering dairy conditions. The meeting adjourned to meet again when more definite plans and information will be submitted.

LEGION ACTIVITIES.

The American Legion met Friday evening in the city hall to take further actions in completing a permanent organization. Lyman Fox, whose son Glenn is a member, presented a handsome flag which was highly appreciated by the members.

After returning a vote of thanks it was decided to offer the flag to the city to be floated from the flag staff in the city hall yard, which is now ornamented with only a piece of a flag.

It was also voted that the legion unite with the City Commercial club in an endeavor to stage some special attraction here for Armistice day, November 11. Efforts are to be renewed to secure as members, every one belonging to this section. The report showed more than fifty new signatures.

This party was the most successful party that the church has given this season. The affair was very entertaining to the little ones because they enjoyed wearing the masks and playing the tricky games.

The main characters of the party were Miss Virginia Kirkpatrick and Master Jack Baldwin. They were masked as Jack-o-lanterns and received the children at the door and later in the evening were captains of the guessing contests.

A program was given and refreshments served after the social hour.

WINS REPLEVIN SUIT.

John Gillespie is back from Kansas City where he was called earlier in the week to defend in a replevin suit, wherein it was claimed that he had sold a horse, which had been previously stolen from the claimant.

Upon the stand the claimant described the animal stolen from him with great particularity giving in detail every mark and the description fitted the horse very closely.

Mr. Gillespie described three slight marks upon the horse he had sold and stated if the horse in question was not so marked he would withdraw his defense. A recess was taken and the animal was found to be marked exactly as described by Mr. Gillespie and a verdict in his favor was rendered.

GAVE LUNCHEON.

Miss Lyon and Miss McQuin, two teachers of the high school faculty entertained the teachers of the high school to a pretty buffet luncheon at the home of Miss Jenny McCoy on East Fourth street.

BUYING BOOSTS CORN PRICE

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Decided strength manifested itself today in the corn market, and there was active buying on the part of commission houses and shorts. Wet weather and higher quotations on hogs and stocks were bullish influences. In addition, the railroad permit system and acute shortage of cars tended to curtail receipts and to hoist prices.

On the advance December delivery reached the topmost point since Sept. 24. The market closed unsettled, ¼ to 1⅝c net higher, with December $1.27¾ to $1.27⅞ and May $1.23⅝ to $1.23¾.

Opening figures, which ranged from ⅝ to 1⅝c higher, including December $1.26½ to $1.27 and May $1.23½ to $1.23¾, were followed by material further gains.

Oats ascended with corn. After opening ⅛ to ⅜c higher, including December at 71⅛ to 71½c, the market continued to harden.

Provisions like cereals and hogs were on the upgrade. Trade, though, was light.

Bulges led to selling by packers and made 2prices settle back somewhat.

URGE BOYCOTT ON EGGS AND BUTTER

New York, Oct. 27.—Copies of resolutions urging housewives of America to refrain from the purchase or use of eggs, butter and coffee, except for consumption by children or invalids, were sent to Atty-Gen. Palmer yesterday by the National Housewives league, which recently adopted them. The league sets forth that the action taken is purely an economic one, "a lowering of prices by decreased consumption."

PRICE OF CATTLE GOES DOWNWARD

Good Steers Marked Off $2 Monday.

Local quotations on cattle were very generally re-adjusted by local packers Monday with a lowering of prices for good steers of about $2 a hundred pounds and a corresponding drop for heifers, cows and bulls.

Hogs remain at the prices quoted last week but if the firmness manifested in the central markets Monday is maintained prices in Decatur will probably advance at least a half dollar a hundred.

Grain prices remained unchanged here on the news that there was practically no change in the central markets. Futures were firm and with the breaking up of the roads deliveries of any kind of grain will be materially lessened with a possible stiffening of values.

Decatur dealers are offering the following prices for grain:

MINE SHUT-DOWN NOW UNAVOIDABLE

Convention Must Be Called to Act.

FRIDAY IS LAST DAY

Reinhold Believes Meeting Will Be Called.

The coal miners strike order has been in the hands of Decatur mine officials for the last two weeks or more and as everywhere else it provides for going out next Friday night

There is found o e the shut down even if only for a short tim says Emil Reinhold secretary of Local No St The reason s this We have our strike orders from th na tional offices Now the executive officers cannot rescind a strike order s many peopl believe They have o power to d that It is up to a vote of the national delegates to re cind such an order just as it was up o them to v te fo strike no r ke

NEED CONVENTION

Before the strike order n l inded t will be necessary to call national con ention of these dele ates Now some of those delegates ould have t travel three or four days to reach the convention and for that reason it would be fully a week efore we could have a convention and vote to change our strike order

However I do look to se the ex utive officers all another spec al convention in a fe lays to further onsider conditions I would udge tha right at present there e close to 400 me worl ng i th tw mines ler

S M ETHICS

A great m n pe ple h be passing ight on s in the last few d s Most of thes people are doing with t f ll understan ing onl the a I think the shou I kno t they ar talling about bef re they ump on the miner I wa t o say t Th six hour l y and f e day we will not hurt any one w l or cut all the coal ut and st l t e se t cost The miner will be benefitted by it to th exten — t will divide up the busines so that more miners w l have a chance to work s eadil and to worl the year around

For instance a comp n may own seven mines They may not have uite enough business to keep all seven mines going all the time Con sequently they may work four of these mines t l time b t may run he others on t ree days a week The result is the m ners in four of the mines enjoy steady work but the fellow in th othe three can only work t ree days a week and hardly make eno gh to k p themselves and fam lies a ive

ALL THE WORK

With the six hour day f ve days a week this company would have to run all the mines each day to fill its orders and this would keep all the men at work I would keep many of the m nes work ng most of the sum mer, thus giving work the year around instead of only in winter Taking the whole year into consider ation, some miners wouldn't make as much and others would make more It would serve to div de things up more among e

At present the miner really puts in about nine and one half hours a day here He must b on the face of the work at a certain time To ar r ve there he has to start fully a half hour before that t me and it takes about the same length of time in the evening to walk from the working to the shaft With a six hour day the miner here will spend about seven and one half hours from the time he leaves the top goes down into the mine and omes out again

OFFICIALLY REJECT ALL PAVING BLOCKS

Letter Read to Council From Inspector.

Wood blocks for the Prairie avenue pavement have been officially re jected

A letter from the Gulick Henderson company which has charge of the work of inspecting the wood blocks ordered for the Prairie avenue pave ment from the Southern Wood Pre serving company was read at the council meeting Mond y morning This letter contained nformation that has already been published in re gard to the rejection of the blocks sh pped here nd the reasons there fore

The letter explained to th t the reason the inspector was unable to report sooner on the analys s of the oil used in treating the blocks was th t a we k elapsed from the time the sample of the oil used was sent to the laboratory unt l a report was received on the analys s This was beca of delay in transport tion The presen e of so large a per entage of water in the blo ks probably was du o failure to drain the tanks thoroughly before the blocks were put in

AS TO OIL USED

H ex lained further th it would not have done any good to have sent a sample of the oil propos d to be used for analysis as the company aids tw or three tanks of oil a week t the tre tment vats and the sam ple taken before treatment might not be any indication of the kind of oil that was actually u ed It would even be possible to change the oil while the inspect r was out in specting t e untreated blocks

The letter stated further that the company could not make the ex use that the w ong tank of oil had been inadvertently used The latter said th the company probably at tached t o little importance to that s c on of the specifications calling f r a certa n kind of oil treatment The quantity of tar on the blocks sent here was explained by the man ner of stacking the blocks at the plant before shipment they being packed so close together that the excess could not drain ff properly The recommenda ion was that all blocks sent to Decatur be re ected

T m m nication was placed on fi

RECOMMEND REJECTION

Consulting Engineers Miller Hol bro k & Warren recommended the ure and also that Contractors File & Alexander be notif ed of the re ction and instructed to use every possible effort to get other blocks here that will comply with the specifications and at as early a date as possible Th s recommendation was referred to the board of local im provements and at the meeting of the board which was held a few minutes later Commissioner Mattes presented a motion embodying that recommendation and the city clerk was instruct ed to notify File & Alexander of the act on taken

Mr Mattes sa d tha to safeguard the pos ibility of any such blunders in fu ure there should be some means of inspecting these blocks before they are shipped He thought that the in spector at the plant could have de tected the f ct that the oil was not the kind specif ed and have stopped the work at once

Mayor Borchers said th t according to the statement of the inspector it took a week to get the report on the analysis of the sample sent to the lab oratory The report could have been favorable on that sample and yet the manufacturer could have shifted oils in the meantime and there would be no way of detecting the substi tute until after a sample of the treat ed blocks was sent for analysis

VAN PRAAG GETS PLENTY OF COAL

Tells Council He Has 13 Cars in Sight.

TO COST $3.88 HERE

Will be Provided for Needy of City.

Commissioner Alexander Van Praag who was delegated by the city council last Thursday to see what he could do in the way of securing a supply of coal for emergency use this winter when many poor families will be unable to get coal delivered re ported to the council Monday morning that he had visited one city and written to others explaining the need of coal here and the fact that the local mines are unable to supply the demand and that the city pro posed to sell the coal to the poor people at actual cost which would doubtless be something above prices pre ailing here now so that no local coal company could possibly have any objection

ALL READY TO HELP

I never knew that there were so many people desirous of helping Decatur said Commissioner Van Praag They all seem proud of Decatur and anxious to help us out in any way they can I feel safe in saying that one car will be shipped here today another car tomorrow and one on Thursday I have be tween ten and twenty five cars of co l in sight and am sure of thir teen The price the city will pay will be $2 7 a ton on cars at the sh pping point which will mean $ 6 here on track and with the war tax added the price will be $3 88 a ton Of course the teamsters will have to be pa d for hauling it

WITHHOLDS SHIPPERS

He had a copy of his letter to the outside coal dealers read by the clerk so that there could be no misunder standing

Don t you th nk the members of th s council are entitled to know where this coal is coming from" asked Mayor Borchers

That will all be told in my for mal report which will be made when he bills for the coal are presented I have my reasons for not wanting to make the shipping points public at this t me said Mr Van Praag

STORAGE SPACE

He said that the McLaughlin com pany had notified him that consider able storage space was available at its plant and that space could be used by the city for storing this coal free of charge

Mayor Borchers said that J H Cul ver had also offered storage space free of charge and would do every thing possible to help the city get the coal delivered

Commissioner Van Praag is elated over the success he has had in get ting the promise of immediate ship ment of coal to Decatur

TIRED WAITING ON SACKETT'S REPORT

Expect Decision on Dam in Few Days.

How much longer are we going to wait for a report from Mr Sackett in regard to his approval of the plans for the impounding dam at Decatur?" asked Commissioner Montgomery at the council meeting Monday morning

Mayor Borchers said that the last information was to the effect that Mr Sacket had turned his report over to his superior Mr Bennett on Saturday He thought that Mr Bennett should be given a few days in which to report to the city and if no report was here by Thursday it would be time enoug to appeal to Mr Bennett

TIRED WAITING

Mr Montgomery said that in order to keep faith with some of the business interests of the city there should be a sufficient water supply impounded by next summer to get by the dry season and the thought that possible a letter could be written or some other action taken that would hasten a start on the dam He is not the le st worried over any action others may take to cause delay after the city once has authority to go ahead, but the delay in getting that authority is becoming tiresome

Commissioner Mattes said that all the members of the council were sweating blood over the same proposition but he did not know of anything that could be done to hurry matters

There s no use to call on Mr Sackett said Mayor Borchers He has already reported to Mr Bennett, and we should give Mr Bennett a chance to look over the report and draw his breath
